DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the thin ultrasonic vibrators must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Objections

Claims 1 and 2 are objected to because of the following informalities: it appears as though claims 1 and 2 have a plurality of punctuation marks not clearly depicted; it appears as though periods are in place of comma's. It appears that claim 1 line 3 should recite "a movable part which is movably installed". Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being incomplete for omitting essential structural cooperative relationships of elements, such omission amounting to a gap between the necessary structural connections. See MPEP § 2172.01. The omitted structural cooperative relationships are: exactly where the "floating surfaces" are positioned.

Claim 1 recites "....said movable part can be floated through floating surfaces....". This limitation is deemed vague and indefinite. Exactly how can Applicant's "floating surface" be a floating surface if it is part of the fixed part? Exactly how can the movable part float through the floating surfaces? It sounds as though the movable part can travel through a solid surface, such as a wall. The term "a movable part which movably installed on said fixed part" also deems the claim vague and indefinite. Exactly how can a movable part be installed on any structure and still be able to move relative to that structure? Further clarification and correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1 and 2 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hashimoto et al. (US Patent number 5,810,155).

Hashimoto et al. disclose an ultrasonic levitation device comprising a fixed part (structure surrounding 91 in figure 42 and 45) a movable part (17) which is movably installed on said fixed part so that the movable part (17) can be floated through floating surfaces (98 or 100) by ultrasonic vibration of said fixed part or said movable part wherein thin ultrasonic vibrators (91) are provided on the fixed part or said movable part and wherein the floating surfaces (98) are formed in sloped surfaces.
